

Third IAFIE Europe Chapter Conference

11 – 14 September 2018

University of Leicester

College Court Conference Centre

Intelligence Pedagogy and Contemporary Challenges

The University of Leicester will host the IAFIE Europe Chapter 2018 Conference in Leicester from 11th to 14th September 2018 at its conference facility at College Court. Building on the success of the first two IAFIE Europe Chapter conferences we aim to continue exploring European approaches to current international themes and methods in intelligence education. We also aim to continue the mission of the Association to improve intelligence education by providing an opportunity for intelligence scholars to network with each other, encouraging interdisciplinary research and teaching, and developing links between academia, government, and the private sector. This year we particularly welcome papers that address the conference theme of “Intelligence Pedagogy and Contemporary Challenges”.

The limits of intelligence are tested as never before by ‘lone wolf’ terrorism, transnational crime, and political subversion of democratic processes by both state and non-state actors using a combination of big data and social media. Apparent intelligence failures in these areas help feed a wider narrative that the public and politicians can no longer rely on ‘experts’ and that unfounded opinions are as valid as evidence-based research. In Europe intelligence agencies may find there is strength in numbers, solving these problems through intelligence sharing and integration. We therefore particularly welcome papers that present pedagogical approaches to these challenges, especially if they address particular European perspectives. We also welcome papers addressing any aspect of intelligence education, particularly those that demonstrate innovation in the use of case studies, simulations, and exercises.

Please submit your 250-300 word paper/panel/poster proposals (abstracts) to David Strachan-Morris, Conference Chair, at drsm1@le.ac.uk by 1st April, 2018. Notification of acceptance of proposals will be notified by 30th April, 2018. Student proposals for either papers or posters are restricted to postgraduate students and must be accompanied by a letter of endorsement from a faculty member. Panel proposals should include a single 250-300 word abstract and panel title, as well as:

- All presenter names (limited to four), affiliations, and presentation titles;
- Panel discussant name and affiliation; and
- Panel chair name and affiliation.

The Venue

The University was founded as Leicester, Leicestershire and Rutland University College in 1921. The site for the University was donated by a local businessman, Thomas Fielding Johnson, in order to create a living memorial for all local people who made sacrifices during the First World War. This is reflected in the University's motto Ut vitam habeant – 'so that they may have life'.

The University of Leicester is in the East Midlands, with easy rail and road links to the rest of the country. The campus and the conference venue, College Court, are both near the city centre and are a short taxi or bus ride from the railway station.

College Court offers a restaurant, a bar, 16 versatile meeting rooms, 123 bedrooms, free high speed Wi-Fi, a city centre location, and free onsite parking.

In the evenings Leicester has a vibrant city centre, famous for its Indian cuisine. For sports fans there is Leicester City FC, the local football team which won the Premier League against all the odds in 2016, and Leicester Tigers, a rugby club that plays in the top tier of English rugby with many of its players playing for their national side. Leicester also has the National Space Centre and, of course, the King Richard III Visitor Centre.
